news & views

To date we have played three League games - one win, one draw, one defeat. Three matches, three points, a good average for two away and one home. Maybe the start of the season has not been so auspicious as we hoped, but as mentioned in the first programme our opening ten fixtures were very difficult. Even before today's game we have played yet another away from home, namely at Watford last Wednesday. This afternoon we face a team right bang in form as instanced by their resounding win at Fulham on Tuesday.

Football is undoubtedly hitting the headlines, with the controversy on the directive to referees and the enforcement of certain rules. Much has been written and spoken (some comments have been quite absurd). Both managements and players are rather divided in their opinions, but one feels that once the whole business has settled down and reached its right proportions it will be for the good of the game as a spectacle. Certainly it will be pleasant to see such things as players standing at least ten yards from the ball for free kicks, and surely the stopping of protesting is applauded. I read one comment where it stated: 'Players will now have to rely more on skill and ability'. That must be right, in fact several managers have spoken in that vein, and many seem to think the strict enforcement of all rules will produce more goals. That must help. Despite the fact that spectators want, in fact demand, success, they still like to see goals scored. One has got to be realistic as attendances are dropping, especially in Division II.

Many factors have a bearing on attendances: one, the present position in industry; two, the higher prices charged for admittance; and three, what is so called 'Soccer hooliganism'. I certainly think the latter has a bearing on attendances at certain games, but I can never agree it is the result of what happens on the field. It begins on the trains and buses, and in the towns and on the terraces long before the games begin. It is a problem which must be overcome; and here possibly the best way of coping with it at the matches is the provision of many more seats, so that spectators are not so tightly packed and everyone can see what his neighbour is doing.

The opening of the new stand, with almost 5,000 seats, is going to prove most helpful in that respect, as well as providing a wonderful view of the game.

Queen's Park Rangers visited the County Ground last season on 10th October, 1970. Swindon won by the only goal (Horsfield) scored, but were defeated at Shepherds' Bush on 17th April, 1971 by 4 goals to 2, so honours were fairly even. But today's game will be very close indeed.

It is good to see our near neighbours, Reading and Bristol City, obtaining such good results. Bristol at present occupy top position, and are on the crest of the wave. If this continues, the gate on 2nd October promises to be a bumper one. We were sorry to see the departure of Mr. Bert Bush, Secretary of that club for the past fifteen years. A very kind, helpful man to all concerned. The type of person professional soccer can ill-afford to lose. Nevertheless, the amateur side of the game will gain, as he is now the Secretary of Dorset Football Association. We wish him well.

I read an article in a Gloucestershire paper written by a reporter on Swindon Town, its fixtures and prospects. He was very kind, but the part which interested me most was when he recalled his early visits to the County Ground by train and the enjoyment he got from seeing Swindon win. On his first visit he saw Swindon defeat Aldershot by seven goals to nil (the days of the Stephens brothers, Ithell, Lunn, Boulton, etc.).

He then continues to say 'It is difficult to equate those days with the present, but the feeling must be that Town have really had to toil for and earn the place they now hold and they will have to toil further to improve it still more. The hardest task has been shrugging off the old Division 3 (South) image - though do not let us decry the loyal efforts and services of those concerned'.

How right he is - the 'fifties especially were times of sweat, toil and stress. There is still much to be done, but Swindon Town is now established as a team with sound Division II status, and a club with ambitions for the future.

It is hoped you will still enjoy the new style programme. You will no doubt notice the teams are printed on the front cover, so one can see at a glance the name of a certain player. Also the photograph reproduced is a new one each week, although possibly not as attractive as the previous coloured covers of programmes.

Here is the news . . .

or, at least, the news for which many of you have been waiting. We are arranging the first of our full away 'package' trips for the match against Cardiff City at Ninian Park on Saturday, September 25th.

The 'package' will include return travel from Swindon to Cardiff and a reserved seat at the match. So, for those who like spectating in comfort, without any transport problems, it can't be bad.

But, it is not only your welfare we are thinking about. We are also convinced that this match will prove far too good to miss. It promises to be in the same mould as our visits to Ninian Park during the two previous seasons.

Those of you who saw one or both of those matches will quickly agree that they were terrific value for money. The football in both was of the highest quality, and the determined attacking policies of the two sides produced a rich harvest of thrills.

So, please don't come to us after the match and say that you would have gone had you known that the 'package' would prove such a bargain. Instead, just make sure that you are among the satisfied customers who do know a good thing when they see it.

You can book a place on the trip simply by going along to our new match-day ticket office after today's game, or during normal office hours next week. If you are in town next week then your tickets can be purchased from Rimes of Swindon or Cirencester.

But, we would advise you not to take too long in making up your minds. Remember, delay could lead to disappointment!

The cost of your trip inclusive of travel (by Rimes Coaches) and match ticket: Adults £1.50; Children £1.25.

In spite of injuries, which have kept him out of Q.P.R.'s team for long periods, he has made 206 appearances so far and has scored 114 goals. He is the third highest goalscorer for Q.P.R. in 86 years of football. He is 26 years of age.

Cup medal with them, and was with them for three seasons making 114 appearances and scoring five goals. He joined Q.P.R. in the summer of 1969 for a record fee of £80,000. Aged 28, he has made 83 appearances for Q.P.R. and has scored 18 goals, mostly from the penalty spot. He plays wing-half or inside-forward.

He made 49 appearances for them before they dropped out of the League. Blackburn Rovers signed him, and he made 220 League appearances for them, scoring 30 goals. After six seasons he was transferred to Aston Villa for £55,000, but after only 38 appearances he was bought by Q.P.R. in November 1969 for £11,500. He has made 56 appearances so far, and has scored twice.

Gerry Francis

Aged 19, he has already made 52 appearances for Q.P.R. and has scored 7 goals. He made his first appearance for Q.P.R. against Liverpool as a substitute in 1969, and scored in his first full match, away to Portsmouth the following season.

Ian Gillard

Was with Tottenham Hotspur as a schoolboy, before joining Q.P.R. four seasons ago. He is now 20 years old and has made 43 appearances for Q.P.R., scoring one goal from the full-back position. He made his debut against Nottingham Forest in 1968.

Dave Clement

Born at Battersea, and played for London Schoolboys at inside-forward. He signed apprentice forms for Q.P.R. five seasons ago as a centre-half. In this position he played for the England Youth XI in the Junior World Cup in 1966 against Italy and France. He made his debut in April 1967 against Scunthorpe United and, at the age of 23, has played 142 times and scored 10 goals, mostly in the role of attacking full-back.

He was the leading goalscorer in Q.P.R.'s one season in the First Division with eight goals to his credit.

Ian Watson

After making only five first team appearances with Chelsea, he was signed by Q.P.R. for £10,000 in 1965. He has been a fairly regular member of the side as full-back and centre-half. He has made 187 appearances and has scored twice. He is 27 years old.

Tony Hazell

He made his debut for Q.P.R. in 1964, and has played more games for Q.P.R. than any other current player. So far he has made 270 appearances and scored five times. He is a wing-half or full-back.
