says ....

Allan Clarke lifted Barnsley up from the Fourth Division into the Third and has left the club in a very healthy state from a playing point of view.

He has enjoyed a good deal of success here at Oakwell and I hope he has a similar amount at Elland Road.

It is obviously a big challenge for me to take over in such a situation and keep things moving, but I always wanted to move into management and I am looking forward to it very much.

I was fortunate enough to play under two great managers in Don Revie and Alf Ramsey and I think anyone who has done that finds it a natural progression to stay on in football as a manager, or at least in some capacity.

Already, for instance, from Leeds alone there are Allan, Jack Charlton, Billy Bremner, Terry Cooper and now myself, and there are more to come.

I learned a lot from both managers, as did my predecessor, but I will still do things my own way.

I have a different character to Allan, but people should not make the mistake that I'm going to be soft in any way.

They should remember that I was brought up with Leeds, where it was always emphasised that if you did what was required the rewards would be good. If not . . . .

So I start a new career as player-manager. And I'm fortunate enough to have been left a good set-up, with a squad of players I believe are capable, with perhaps a little strengthening along the way, of winning promotion to the Second Division.

I know there is a long way to go and some hard work ahead, but I believe that with your continued support, we can get there.

IN TOWN TODAY

A 2-1 home victory over Rotherham United last Saturday brought Swindon their first points of the season - and sighs of relief from manager Bob Smith after a traumatic week in which he transfer listed expensive signings David Peach and Andy Rowland, then he signed three players from American League Club Boston Teamen, only to discover he could not get clearance for them to play.

It seemed for a while as though Rotherham would add to the problems, but Swindon's gamble in bringing back 37-years-old youth coach John Trollope to the side for his 757th appearance paid off, with Trollope coolly steady-ing his younger colleagues.

The victory also took Swindon off the bottom of the table, their goal difference being superior to that of Carlisle.

Rowland, of course, made such a big impact last season, scoring 28 goals. Born in Derby, he was apprenticed with his home-town team, but did not play league football until a transfer took him to Bury before the start of the 1974-75 season. He was three times leading scorer and made 169 league appearances before his move to Swindon in September, 1978. His debut came that month against Blackpool and at the end of last season had chalked up 72 league appearances for the club.

At £150,000, defender, Peach represents the club's most expensive signing. He arrived at the County Ground from Southampton last March, but an injury restricted him to ten games before the end of the season. During his seven years with the Saints he made 220 league appearances, appeared in two cup-finals (winning an F.A. Cup winners' medal in 1976) and captained the side. He hails from Bedford and started his career with Gillingham, for whom he made 186 league appearances.

Alan Mayes was the other half of the twin striking partnership which produced a total of 56 goals last term. He is a Londoner whose first club was Queen's Park Rangers, his league career beginning in November, 1974, following his transfer to Watford. Two years later he made ten appearances on loan to Northampton, but then returned to Watford, for whom he made 110 league appearances before joining Swindon. He scored a hat-trick on his debut at Rotherham and had made 65 league appearances for the club to the end of last season.

Goalkeeper Jimmy Allan, born in Inverness, will have been at Swindon ten years this season, having been signed from Scottish non-league football. He made his debut against Queen's Park Rangers in September, 1971, and has been first-choice 'keeper for most of the last four seasons. At the end of last season he had made 227 league appearances.

Born in Blaengwynfi, defender Russell Lewis joined Swindon from Welsh League football in 1976 and made his league debut at York the following year. His first-team chances were limited until last year, when he broke through, mostly playing at full-back. He has now made more than 52 league appearances.

Roy Carter is a true utility player, having featured as an attacking mid-field man, in the forward line and in defence. From Torpoint, Cornwall, he played part-time in Western League football for Falmouth before joining Hereford in the summer of 1975. He played in 64 league games there, figuring in the side which won the Third Division Championship in 1976. He signed for Swindon in December, 1977, making his debut against Carlisle that month, and has now played more than 100 league games for the club.

An experienced and dependable centre-half, Andy Rollings comes from North Weston and started his career with Norwich City, for whom he made four league appearances. A move to Brighton in 1974 gave him regular first-team football, and he played in the teams which won promotion from both Third and Second Divisions. He played around 170 league games for Brighton before signing for Swindon in May this year.

Ian Miller is no stranger to this area, having spent three seasons with Doncaster Rovers, for whom he made 124 league appearances. A Scot, he made his league debut for Bury before moving to Nottingham Forest, but failed to make the first-team there. He signed for Swindon from Belle Vue during the 1978 close season and has now made nearly 100 league appearances for the 'Robins'.

An attacking mid-field player, Chris Kamara began last season on the transfer list, but finished up being voted the Supporters' Player of the Year! He hails from Middlesbrough, but served his apprenticeship at Portsmouth, where he was one of a number of teenagers given league debuts in season 1975-76. He made 56 league appearances for Portsmouth and signed for Swindon just before the start of the 1977-78 season. He had made 89 league appearances for Swindon by the end of last season.

Belfast-born Bryan Hamilton manages Swindon's second team, but has found himself back in the first team recently. During Northern Ireland's 1980 summer tour to Australia, he won two more international caps, bringing his total to 50. His previous clubs were Ipswich, Everton and Millwall.

A native of Leeds, Roy Greenwood made his debut with Hull City in season 1971-72 and went on to make 118 league appearances before moving to Sunderland in 1976 in time to help them win the Second Division. After 45 league games he signed for Derby County in February, 1979, making 20 league appearances for them before his move to Swindon just over a year later

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

John Bettany

Soccer in the lower divisions produces many unsung heroes. Players who never reach the so-called big-time, but whose contribution to the game is no less valuable.

Such a man is John Bettany, who gave splendid service to three clubs — Huddersfield, Barnsley and Rotherham — and a great deal of pleasure to countless fans.

And he had his moment of success in the 1967-68 season when he helped the Oakwell Club win promotion from the Fourth Division — compensation for the many earlier disappointments.

A one-time Sheffield Wednesday and Lincoln City amateur, John started his league career with Huddersfield Town, for whom he made 69 first-team appearances in five years, before joining Barnsley in March, 1965.

He went on to make 194 League appearances for the Reds, and, at around £4,000, proved one of the best buys made by the then manager, Johnny Steele.

It was at the end of the 1969-70 season that he severed his links with Oakwell at the age of 32, signing for the neighbours Rotherham United for a fee of around £3,500.

He spent just one year at Millmoor and then went into non-league football with Goole Town in the Premier League for three years, finishing his playing career with a two-year spell at Frickley in the Midland League where his colleagues included two other ex-Oakwell players Frank Beaumont and Hugh Moran.

During those latter years he also took part-time employment working in a newsagent's shop, and four years ago he took over as manager when the owner opened another branch.

He has had no chance to play as an amateur, being involved with the shop at weekends, and so he spends what little spare-time he has either gardening or helping on a local farm.

His visits to Oakwell since he left have been rare, although he has played in a couple of testimonial matches, but he is still friendly with former colleague Brian Arblaster, who lives not too far away.

John is married to a Thurcroft girl, Kathleen, and the couple have a seven-years-old daughter, Lisa.

with Keith Lodge

talking with Allan Clarke at Brentford on Monday

At twenty minutes to five today the first result I will be looking for will be that of Barnsley, and I hope it is a good one.

In the period of just over two years that I have been at Oakwell a lot of hard work has been done, and I believe that Barnsley can now go from strength to strength.

I can honestly say I am sad to be leaving. In fact, the set-up here is now such that Leeds is the only club, at this particular time, that I would have left Barnsley to join.

It was a hard decision to make; we all had such a lot going for us here, and I am sure I am leaving the basis of a team which is capable of winning promotion.

The first year I was here went better than I had dared to hope and we won promotion. Last season I had to rebuild a side and it was then that I proved, to myself as much as to anyone else, that I could manage; I could do the job.

And, of course, everyone at Barnsley knew how ambitious I was, so the parting was bound to come sooner or later.

But I'm only just down the road, not the other end of the country, and I'll be coming back to watch matches and players here.

As far as my successor is concerned, the Board asked my advice, and I gave it. The decision was then up to them.

But I did have a chat with the players and told them that I would expect that, whoever was appointed to take over, they would give him the same co-operation and effort that they have given me.

So I would finally like to wish every success to the club, and that means directors, players, staff, all those behind the scenes, and not least all you fans who have supported us so magnificently during the past two seasons and a bit, with the hope that the end of this season brings promotion to Division Two.

I believe you can do it.

Going to Leeds with Allan Clarke are Martin Wilkinson, who will take on the post of Assistant Manager, and Barry Murphy as first team coach.

Barnsley physio Norman Rimmington declined the offer to go to Elland Road saying "If I'd been fifteen years younger I'd have jumped at the chance."

SCENE THREE

All the weekend headlines proclaimed the fact that Barnsley manager Allan Clarke was about to take over the Leeds United hot-seat, and on Monday night all the speculation was finally ended with the announcement from Griffin Park, by Clarke himself, that he had accepted the post.

He would dearly have loved to have ended his reign of just over two years at Oakwell by leaving his side at the top of the Third Division table — and they would have done, at least for 24 hours, had they managed to beat Brentford.

Clarke told his players before the game that he was leaving, and asked them to go out and give him a performance to remember.

And they certainly tried their best, only a five save by Brentford 'keeper Paul McCullough in the last minute preventing the Reds from claiming the victory that everyone at Oakwell was so keen to achieve.

Clarke always said that his aim was to lead Barnsley back into the Second Division and he has departed only after a good deal of hard thought, but with the belief that he has provided the basis for that ambition to be achieved in his absence.

The draw at Griffin Park meant that Charlton remained on top of the table on their own as a result of Saturday's 1-0 home victory over Chester, a second half penalty from Derek Hales proving the decider.

Previous leaders Sheffield United and Portsmouth both went down to away defeats.

United created enough chances to have won at Reading, but the injury-hit home side battled well to secure a 1-0 victory, thanks to a brilliantly-executed goal by Stuart Beavon in the 16th minute.

Newly-promoted Portsmouth, who won their first four matches back in Division Three went down to their second successive defeat. Surprisingly beaten 2-0 at home by Brentford the previous Saturday, they lost 2-0 on their visit to Walsall, who were promotion colleagues last season, the goals coming from Rees and Buckley.

There was a good crowd of 11,600 for the London derby between Brentford and Fulham at Griffin Park, where the home team crashed 3-1, but that was topped by the 13,819 for the Yorkshire derby at Oakwell, where Ronnie Glavin's 7th goal of the season 5 minutes from time gave the Reds two rather fortunate points against Huddersfield.

At the other end of the scale, Colchester, who were promotion contenders for most of last season, must be concerned by their attendances.

Only 2,724 fans turned out to watch them beat Millwall 3-0 at Layer Road, but even that was better than the two previous gates of 2,061 and 1,979, making them the worst supported team in the Division, along with Chester, whose last home gate also fell below the 2,000 mark.

Apart from Barnsley. Portsmouth and Sheffield United also continue to pull in the fans, but figures elsewhere make depressing reading.

KNOW THE LAWS - No. 6

(c) Studs which are moulded as an integral part of the sole and are not replaceable shall be made of rubber, plastic polyurethane or similar soft materials. Provided that there are no fewer than ten studs on the sole, they shall have a minimum diameter of three eighths of an inch (10 mm).

Additional supporting material to stabilise studs of soft materials, and ridges which shall not protrude more than 5mm from the sole and moulded to strengthen it, shall be permitted provided that they are in no way dangerous to other players. In all other respects they shall conform to the general requirements of this Law.

(d) Combined bars and studs may be worn, provided that the whole conforms to the general requirements of this Law. Neither bars nor studs on the soles shall project more than three-quarters of an inch. If nails are used they shall be driven in flush with the surface.

(3) The goalkeeper shall wear colours which distinguish him from the other players and from the referee.

Punishment: For any infringements of this Law, the player at fault shall be sent off the field of play to adjust his equipment and he shall not return without first reporting to the referee, who shall satisfy himself that the player's equipment is in order; the player shall only re-enter the game at a moment when the ball has ceased to be in play.

STOP PRESS

By BRIAN STEER
(Morning Telegraph, Sheffield)

Bricks and mortar may not be the ideal medium through which to remember the tremendous job of work Allan Clarke did in his two years at Barnsley.

But the Oakwell press box will serve as a permanent reminder to me and the countless other scribes who spend so many Saturday afternoons there of Allan's ability to get things done.

Close on 30 years ago when I first climbed the rickety old wooden stairs into the press box there was talk in the air of providing new accommodation for reporters.

That, in fact, was a promotion year.

But nothing was done about the sloping shelves on which you dare not rest a pencil for fear of seeing it roll off and on to the floor where it was certain to find a hole large enough for it to finish up in the trainer's room below.

Nor about the inability to sit down on the benches without the protective insulation of a wad of newspaper beneath your backside for fear of having your posterior painfully punctured by a sliver of rotting wood.

There were plans and counter plans for improvements, but at the end of Allan's first season he said to me quite casually one day that a new press box would be provided for the entry into the Third Division.

I've heard that one before, I thought.

Lo and behold it came to pass. Not only was the new accommodation ready for the opening Third Division game, its scope surprised everyone.

Press facilities are not the top priority in building a football club, of course.

What matters first and foremost is team building, and the provision of proper facilities for the thousands who pay at the gate for their entertainment.

But when Allan Clarke kept his press box promise with the full backing of the club's directors it summed up for me just how this man has earned his success.

To say he is positive is an understatement.

That's why I, for one, believe he will make a success of his new job at Leeds. Not by building press boxes — but by winning people over to his side so that they give him 110 per cent in return.

So the Clarke era is at an end so far as Oakwell is concerned.

With him at Elland Road today as Leeds take on Manchester United will be Martin Wilkinson — a man whose talent spotting ability has been vital to Clarke's success — who leaves after a brief connection with the club, and popular Barry Murphy who must have thought, as most others did, that he was as permanent a fixture there as the press box itself.

To all three the local press offer their warmest congratulations.

AT HOME

WITH IAN EVANS AND FAMILY

Ian Evans is the sort of husband every woman dreams of having. Not only is he tall, dark and handsome, but he actually enjoys decorating!

In fact, apart from playing with his two and a half years old son, Tom, it is his favourite relaxation.

After all the physical exertion of training and playing matches he finds it a pleasant change to be able to brighten up his home with a lick of paint here, and some wallpaper there.

And having moved into a new house at Silkstone only in July, he has, no doubt found plenty of opportunity for that in recent weeks.

But he loves nothing better than to play with young Tom, who is the apple of his fatherly eye.

"He's the best thing that ever happened to me", says Ian and now he's looking forward to the birth of his second child around January time.

His wife, Jane, is a Londoner, having worked as a home economist before Tom came along. While Ian hails from Woking, in Surrey.

He owes his Welsh allegiance — he was capped 13 times before the broken leg in October, 1977, which kept him out for two years — to his father, and he would love nothing better than to don the red shirt of Wales once again.

Ian had to think long and hard about leaving London to live in Barnsley, and the four weeks he was on loan at Oakwell gave him little time to explore the area.

But he has been surprised at the beauty of the surrounding countryside, so different to where he had lived before, and he has so far thoroughly enjoyed his stay here.

Outdoor interests include golf and horse-racing in the company of his skipper, Phil Chambers, but he mainly enjoys watching football.

He takes every opportunity to go to other matches, paying particular attention to other central defenders.

"You can learn a lot just by watching other people play", he says.

His performances with the Reds suggests that others could learn a lot by watching him, too.

Welsh selectors included!

Today's Match Officials

Referee: Mr. KEN WALMSLEY (Blackpool).

Keen on all sports, Ken Walmsley played Soccer and cricket for Lancashire Schools before cartilage trouble caused retirement. He consequently started refereeing at the early age of 17 and progressed via local leagues in the Wigan and Leigh areas to the Lancashire Combination and Football League. He refereed the first women's international between England and Holland in 1977; was a linesman for a European Cup match in 1975, for an amateur international between England and Ireland, and the Amateur Cup Final in 1973. He is married, and works as a representative for a design centre.

Linesmen: Red Flag — K. N. MAUGHAN (Whaley Bridge).
Yellow Flag — J. MAXSON (Ashton-under-Lyne).
