BOB PAISLEY

weighing up the season so far

FIRST Division, Europe, League Cup . . . at the time of writing, we are still in contention for honours in all three competitions, and though it's early days, we hope to be in at the death, when it comes to stepping up for trophies. In the meantime, I think it's fair to say that Liverpool—not for the first time—realise they will be judged by the standards they have already set.

Our in-and-out start to the season, our 1-0 defeat in the League Cup at Bradford, and the games at Coventry and St. Andrew's had people putting question marks against us. I've had a few home

WHILE Bob Paisley has been at Anfield for more than 40 years, his counterpart at Swindon, Bobby Smith, has sampled football as a player and as a manager around the country. He started out with Manchester United, moved to Scunthorpe, Grimsby, Brighton, Chester, Hartlepool, and wound up being signed on by Bury as player-coach.

Five months after his arrival at Gigg Lane, he became one of the youngest managers in football, and after a successful spell with Bury, he was on his travels again, first to Port Vale and then to the Wiltshire club.

Not surprisingly, Bobby says: "I was really pleased we were paired with Liverpool—it was a great draw for us, and I reckon we'll have 5,000 or 6,000 fans rooting for us at Anfield. My one regret—and I know I'm being a bit greedy in saying this—was that we couldn't have been drawn at home in the third round of the League Cup.

"But the visit to Anfield has really set our players up . . . not to mention the fans. In this part of the world, of course, we've got a bit of a record for Cup fighting, and when we played Arsenal in the League Cup quarter-final truths to hammer home myself, but let me make one thing plain: my feelings would have been just the same, had we taken 10 points out of 10.

In home games, we have played quite well; away from home, we haven't been too convincing, at times. Overall, results haven't been too bad. Yet I acknowledge that we HAVE set a standard, through the years, and I know we could have played better. So my aim has been to bring us back to that high level of performance which people have come to expect from us.

Easier said than done (it always is!), but if the standard falls short of what we require, then it's my job to apply the remedies. And time will tell what the remedies have turned out to be.

So far as tonight's game is concerned, I've got to admit that Swindon have gone one better than Liverpool, because they have won the League Cup once, and we have yet to emulate their feat.

Swindon have a tremendous record in the League Cup, and even if they hadn't, it would not alter our approach to the tie one jot. They will be worthy opponents.

Just after the third-round draw had been made, I watched them on T.V. when they lost at Bramall Lane, but they certainly were not dismissed by us at that. We have paid them the same attention as everyone else we play.

Home advantage means it's up to us to do the job at Anfield, and our record here should give us the confidence to go out and tackle any team. Swindon have done their share of giant-killing in the past, and rightly earned the glory... but we aim to put a stop to that. For this season, at least.

'THE DAY BURY MADE LIVERPOOL WAIT TO UNCORK THE CHAMPAGNE'

last season we took the best part of 7,000 supporters with us. Remember that we drew 1-1 at Highbury, too, and beat Arsenal 4-3 after extra time on our own ground.

"Only Wolves stood between us and a second appearance at Wembley, and we beat Wolves 2-1 at Swindon... but they managed to go one better, scoring a 3-1 win at Molineux.

"Swindon and their fans love the Cup, especially the League Cup, and the draw with Liverpool has captured the imagination of the folk who follow us. I played at Anfield a few times with Manchester United reserves and on one never-to-be-forgotten occasion with Bury reserves.

"We had injury problems, so although I was Bury's manager, I put my name

looking back on a win at Anfield down on the team sheet. Liverpool needed only one point to make sure of the Central League championship—as usual!—but we got the only goal of the game.

"That was a match in which Liverpool had a pretty strong team out—Chris Lawler played, so did Alan Waddle and Jimmy Case, who went on as substitute and caused us quite a few problems in the last 20 minutes.

"But we held on to our lead and so Liverpool had to keep the champagne on ice. Needless to say, they did the trick the following week. But I must confess that the game remains one of my football memories".

A RECORD WHICH GIVES SWINDON TOWN REAL CAUSE FOR PRIDE

IN THE Wiltshire town of Swindon, supporters still talk about the stirring victory which their club achieved over Arsenal at Wembley in the League Cup final of 1969. Swindon then, as now, were in the Third Division, and they went to the famous stadium as very definite under-dogs.

They were taking on an Arsenal team which, only 12 months previously, had suffered the disappointment of losing 1-0 in the final against Leeds United . . . and that was another reason for the Gunners to be made favourites, because they had every incentive to avoid a repeat performance.

But although it took extra time to settle the issue in 1969—and it was the first League Cup final to be decided over more than 90 minutes at Wembley—when the teams walked off the field, Swindon had won a famous victory. The result: Swindon 3, Arsenal 1.

Those were the days when winger Don Rogers was a hero to every Swindon supporter; now, the fans have other favourites to cheer. Last season, they were hailing players like Roy Carter, Alan Mayes and Andy Rowland, whose goals took Town through the first two rounds of the League Cup against Portsmouth and Chester and set them up for a meeting with First Division Stoke.

At the Victoria Ground, Mayes and Rowland struck to earn Swindon a 2-2 draw, and the return game ended with Stoke taking a knock-out, as Ray McHale (now with Brighton) and Mayes put one across the Potters.

In the fourth round, Rowland was one of the marksmen who brought Swindon a 2-1 victory, and after that notable quarter-final triumph against Arsenal, Rowland and Mayes put Swindon 2-1 ahead against Wolves. But though McHale struck a goal from the penalty spot at Molineux, it wasn't sufficient to prevent Wolves scoring an aggregate victory. So Swindon, like Liverpool, bowed out of the competition with Wembley on the horizon.

This time out, Swindon could thank Rowland for the goal which earned a 1-1 draw at Bournemouth and an Andy Rollings goal for a similar result at Lincoln in the first leg of the second round. In each of these return games, Swindon scored a 2-0 victory . . . and so they come to meet Liverpool at Anfield tonight.

WHY TOWN HAVE SUFFERED IN THE LEAGUE...

SWINDON TOWN last season hit a purple patch which put them in the running not only for a place in the League Cup final at Wembley, but for one of the promotion spots in the Third Division. Sadly for Town, things didn't work out in the final analysis . . . they missed going to Wembley by a whisker, and faded from the promotion contest.

Manager Bobby Smith looks back and says: "I don't know if it was because we had too many hard matches coming thick and fast as the season drew towards its close. As well as the League Cup and League games, we were involved in the F.A. Cup—we drew at Torquay and won the replay, then drew our fourth-round tie at home against Spurs and lost (2-1) in the last seven minutes of the return at White Hart Lane."

This time out, Swindon were expected by many people to make an early showing in the promotion race . . . but after five League games, they were sitting at the foot of the Third Division table without a point.

Indeed, after defeats by Blackpool (2-1 on their own ground), at Portsmouth (1-0), at home against Fulham (4-3) and at Reading (4-1) and Sheffield United (3-0), Swindon were the only club out of 92 without a point to their name.

Finally, they scored a win, beating Rotherham 2-1 at home.

So why this seemingly disastrous start to a season which should have been full of hope?—Bobby Smith explains: "In the first couple of weeks we had no fewer than eight players on the injury list—and even after four matches we still had four men out of action . . . plus the fact that we had lost

Eight men out through injury —three may be missing tonight yet another player, Brian Williams, because he was in dispute with the club over his contract.

"Glen Cockerill was ready to come back by the start of this month, but three other players—Kenny Stroud, Billy Tucker and Steve Abbley—were out for three or four more weeks, and while one or two of them might just about be fit for the League Cup-tie at Anfield, it's one thing having them right and another getting them match-fit.

"In fact, I played a couple of 18-year-olds in some matches, and they did well. But you can see the kind of problems we faced from the kick-off—and we had Andy Rowland and Colin Barrett among our casualties, as well as those I've already mentioned.

"But we've got a pretty strong squad all round, and we'll battle through. We reckon we can put up a good show, even against Liverpool at Anfield. There's no doubt about one thing . . . we'll be giving everything we've got in the League Cup-tie, and aiming to get a result."

THOSE ODDS & OMENS IN THE LEAGUE CUP

LIVERPOOL remained the favourites to land the League Cup when the draw for the third round had been made—remember, we were quoted at 5-1 before we played Bradford City. But two of the shorter-priced clubs took the knock-out in the second round . . . so what price the Fourth Division teams rated as rank outsiders?

Manchester United were rated 9-1 before they fell to Coventry City, holders Wolves were 14-1 before they took a tumble against Cambridge United . . . and the giant-killers of the second-round ties, Bury and Stockport County, still found themselves quoted at 1,000-1.

One wonders what Bradford City would have been quoted at, had they followed up their 1-0 victory over Liverpool at Valley Parade by holding us here and clinching a place in the third round! And Blackburn and Preston must be pondering on their ratings—150-1 and 200-1, respectively—as they were paired with Birmingham (away) and Oxford United (home).

Cup superstition, as well as the form book, plays its part, and outsiders look for omens. Bury remember that in season 1977-78 they reached the fifth round, only to go down 3-0 against Nottingham Forest at Gigg Lane . . . and the Shakers, having disposed of Newcastle, aim to reverse that result against Forest this time out.

Manchester City's pairing with Luton at Kenilworth Road is a repeat of the 1977 third-round draw, and a similar result won't make them unhappy. They drew 1-1 at Luton, were held to 0-0 after extra time at Maine Road—but won the Old Trafford decider 3-2. City, incidentally, were quoted at 33-1 after their pairing with Luton.

But the man hoping most of all that history would repeat itself was Stockport team boss Jimmy McGuigan, who—in his time as manager of Rotherham—steered his team to a 3-1 victory over Arsenal in the League Cup.

SWINDON

SWINDON TOWN have more than a few players who packed considerable First Division experience into their careers. Apart from David Peach and Colin Barrett, their recent recruiting has included Bryan Hamilton, Tom McAlister, Andy Rollings and Roy Greenwood.

Hamilton, of course, was transferred from Ipswich Town to Everton, and the Northern Ireland international midfielder man played in quite a few derby games against Liverpool.

Eventually, he left Goodison Park and, after a lengthy spell with Millwall, he was signed by Swindon. He manages the reserve side, but is still available for first-team duty.

McAlister made his mark as a goalkeeper with Sheffield United, and after 63 League games he was transferred to neighbouring Rotherham. In more than three seasons, he didn't miss a match, and when he moved to Blackpool, in a deal which cost the Seaside around £40,000, he had totalled 159 League games for United. His move to Swindon came after he had played only a dozen or so games for Blackpool.

He has been competing for the No. 1 spot with long-serving Jimmy Allen, a Scot who hails from Inverness and who was signed from non-League football in 1970. Allan wound up last season by having totalled 227 League games in his 10 years at Swindon.

Rollings arrived at Swindon from Goldstone Road, and he was transferred as part of the deal which took midfielder man Ray McHale to Brighton. He began his career with Norwich, played around 170 League

SPELL EXPERIENCE!

A change of colours for David Peach

ON THE right, a player who became a familiar figure on the First Division scene, while he wore the colours of Southampton. Now for David Peach, it's a change of club and a change of playing strip, because towards the end of last season he moved to Swindon Town for a club-record fee of around £150,000.

Peach had been at The Dell since 1974, when he joined the Saints from Gillingham in exchange for a £50,000 fee, and he repaid every penny of that sum by his whole-hearted displays and—not least—the goals he poached. He had totalled 220 League games for Southampton—and scored around 40 goals—when he was transferred.

BARRETT JOINS TOWN ON A FREE TRANSFER FROM FOREST

A PLAYER who joined Swindon Town on a free transfer during the close season will be remembered by Liverpool supporters for his displays while with Nottingham Forest. His is defender Colin Barrett.

Barrett, born in Stockport, was signed by Brian Clough for a fee in the region of £30,000, after he had impressed during a spell on loan from Manchester City. Originally he was regarded as a right-back or centre-half, but after losing his place during Forest's promotion campaign he was drafted in at left-back when Frank Clark was injured.

He soon made the position his own, but had bad luck to miss out on the League Cup-final matches against Liverpool because of an ankle injury sustained a few weeks previously, but he claimed a winner's medal in 1979.

... AND OUR RECORD IN THE COMPETITION

HERE IS the complete record of Liverpool's results in the League Cup competition:

games for Brighton, with whom he won promotion medals as they rose from the Third and Second divisions.

Greenwood, who was born in Leeds, served his apprenticeship with Hull before making his League bow in season 1971-72, and after 118 League games for the Tigers he was transferred to Sunderland in January, 1976, for a substantial fee.

He helped the Roker club regain First Division status that year, and played 45 League games for them before moving on again, this time to Derby County, in February, 1979. A score of League games later, and he was signing for Swindon.

Apart from manager Bobby Smith, there is a strong connection between Bury and Swindon, for several players now with Town were at Gigg Lane at one stage during their careers. They include forward Ian Miller and defender Billy Tucker, while Brian Williams—now no longer under contract with the club—was signed from Bury.

Miller, a Scot, made his bow with Bury, moved to Nottingham Forest and on to Doncaster Rovers, where he stayed three seasons and played 124 League games. In the 1978 close season he signed for Swindon . . . making his debut for them against Bury. By the end of last season he had totalled 81 League games for Town.

Tucker played for Hereford in the Southern League and in the Fourth Division, and was in their promotion-winning sides as they moved up to Division 2. After 135 League games he signed for Bury, in December, 1976, added 96 League appearances to his total, and last season played 35 League games for Swindon.

Town are well served in midfield, despite the departure of McHale, for they can call on Roy Carter, Glenn Cockerill, Chris Kamara and Roy Walsh, while on the defensive side they have Russell Lewis, Kenny Stroud and John Templeman, and young Steve Abbley can reinforce the attack.

Carter played as a part-timer with Falmouth, joined Hereford in 1975 and claimed a Third Division championship medal as he got in 64 League games for United. He has totalled more than 100 League appearances with Swindon since he joined them in December, 1977.

Cockerill made his debut with Lincoln City in season 1976-77, and after more than 50 League games attracted Swindon's attention. When he was signed in December last year he cost what, at the time, was a club-record fee of £110,000.

Kamara was an apprentice at Portsmouth, made his League bow as a teenager in season 1975-76, and signed for Swindon after topping the half-century mark for League games with the Fratton Park club. Now he is heading for a century with Swindon, and is club captain. He began last season by being put up for transfer... and ended it by being voted the club's Player of the Year.

Walsh, a contemporary of Manchester United's Sammy McIlroy as a youngster, skippered Irish League club Glentoran, and he played in a dozen European ties for them. Last year he had a spell in American Soccer, and signed for Swindon in March of this year.

Lewis joined Swindon from Welsh League football in 1976, and he broke through to the senior side last season, playing mostly at full-back, although he had been generally regarded as a central defender. By the end of the season he had totalled 52 League appearances for Town.

Stroud joined Swindon from school, signing professional in 1970, and by the end of last season the club's longest serving player had made close on 250 appearances for his one and only club.

Templeman, like Kamara, was originally with Portsmouth, but his League career began when he was with Brighton in 1966. He stayed eight years and totalled 236 League games before moving to Exeter, with whom he made 195 League appearances, then he joined Swindon in the summer of last year.

Abbley, a young winger signed from local football, made his first-team bow last Easter, and is aiming for the big breakthrough this time out.

DANGER MEN... that title could be applied to strikers ALAN MAYES (above) and ANDY ROWLAND (below), for they have plundered goals galore. Mayes, first with Queen's Park Rangers then Watford, signed for Swindon in February, 1979, after 110 League games with the Vicarage Road club—and hit a hat-trick on his debut for Town. He was joint leading scorer, with 28 goals in all competitions last season, by which time he had totalled 65 League appearances with Swindon.

Rowland was a Derby County apprentice, but his League career blossomed at Bury in season 1974-75, and three times he finished as the Gigg Lane club's leading marksman. By the time he joined Swindon (in September, 1978), he had played 169 League games for Bury, and he kicked off this season having added 72 League appearances with Swindon. In addition, he was level with Mayes in the scoring stakes, with 28 goals in all matches.

Cups that cheer could bring complications!

THREE home games in the space of nine days offer Liverpool supporters three chances to see contrasting opposition, for while tonight's visitors, Swindon Town, come from the Third Division, Saturday's match involves Brighton, from the First, and a week tomorrow night it's Oulu Palloseura, from the far north of Finland, in the European Cup.

Despite their costly ventures into the transfer market, Brighton have been struggling to get away from the wrong end of the table, after defeats in the League at Ipswich and Southampton, and at home against West Brom—these blows came doubly hard, after a bright start with a win over Wolves and a draw at White Hart Lane.

Brighton still retain an interest in the League Cup, of course, after their aggregate, 7-3 success against Tranmere Rovers, who went down 4-2 in the second leg of their tie at Prenton Park.

Liverpool, meanwhile, know what they have to do next week when the return leg of the European Cup-tie takes place at Anfield against Oulu Palloseura—and with the likes of Ipswich and Southampton having set the early pace in the League, continued progress on the Cup front is an important ingredient in our own bid for honours.

Our immediate programme in the First Division gives us every chance of doing ourselves a good turn or two, for the European tie is followed by a trip to Maine Road and then two home matches—the first against Middlesbrough, the second against Ipswich. Assuming (as we shall explain later) that there are no complications.

The derby game in mid-October sees Liverpool making the short trip to Goodison Park, then we visit Molineux to take on Wolves, and Arsenal are the end-of-month visitors to Anfield.

Liverpool's programme for October may not be ended with the League match at Anfield against Arsenal, either, for if we knock Swindon out, we'll be in League Cup action again at the end of next month, when the fourth-round matches are scheduled.

It could take Liverpool's total to 10 games inside five weeks—seven First Division matches, a European Cup-tie, and two

HOW EMLYN SEES THE TITLE RACE

ONE PLAYER looking forward especially to coming up against Liverpool again will be our former skipper, Emlyn Hughes (pictured above), who reckons that the title race this season is likely to be very tight indeed. Emlyn says: "I don't think we (meaning Wolves, of course) are good enough to win Division 1—but you never can tell."

"It's a funny League this time out... in the space of two weeks you can be third from top or third from bottom. Liverpool must still be the favourites; they are the best team in the League, and that's undisputed throughout football. If they don't win the title again, it will be close."

"But I don't think it will take a great team to win it this season, and with other clubs having got away to a flying start, it makes for an interesting situation".

League Cup-ties. But, as we said earlier, there could be complications... because if we knock Oulu Palloseura out of the European Cup, we would have to fit in another European tie between the games against Everton and Arsenal.

Furthermore, if tonight's League Cup-tie should end in a draw after 90 minutes, a replay at Swindon would mean that our scheduled home game against Middlesbrough would have to be rearranged. Which is one very good reason for Liverpool wanting to make it a victory first time out tonight!

THE moment Liverpool knew they were on their way to round three in the Football League Cup—and an early goal from Kenny Dalglish sets the scene for victory over Bradford City at Anfield. Graeme Souness and Jimmy Case congratulate Kenny, as Liverpool go level on aggregate. And there are more goals to come, as you can see on the following pages. Pictures: Harry Ormesher.

And that's the third goal scored by Liverpool as they make no mistake in the second leg of the League Cup-tie at Anfield. THE END OF THE ROAD...

THE BALL leaves David Johnson's right foot and speeds past Bradford City defender Mick Wood. It's goal No. 4 for Liverpool, the end of the Wembley road for City, as they make their exit from the League Cup at Anfield. And any notions City might have had of springing an upset in the competition have been well and truly shattered.

HALF A CENTURY OF TIES IN THE LEAGUE CUP

SWINDON TOWN have clocked up half a century of League Cup-ties in the 20 years they have competed for the trophy, and in the process they have beaten the likes of Birmingham, Chelsea, Coventry City, Derby County, West Ham, Stoke City, Wolves and Arsenal... not to mention Liverpool.

Last season Swindon knocked out Portsmouth, Chester, Stoke, Wimbledon and Arsenal before losing their semi-final against Wolves 4-3 on aggregate. And here is Town's complete record:

Season 1960-61: Shrewsbury Town (h) 1-1, (a) 2-2; (h) 0-2.

QUIZ...

1. Which record was set by goalkeeper Frank Swift, when he played for England against Italy in 1948?
2. Who was the last footballer to score a hat-trick in an F.A. Cup semi-final?
3. Can you name a current First Division club which had to apply for re-election in the same year that it carried off the F.A. Cup?
4. In post-war years, a goalkeeper hit the headlines as he scored two goals in an English League game. Can you name him?
5. Which was the only club to achieve fame as winners of both the Amateur Cup and the F.A. Cup?
6. In which season did Liverpool draw no fewer than 19 of their 42 League matches?
7. When, if ever, did Liverpool go through an entire season without losing a League match?
8. When did Everton play an F.A. Cup-tie at Goodison Park on a Sunday?
9. Can you name the three men who preceded Bill Shankly and Bob Paisley as managers of Liverpool?
10. In post-war years, two brothers played for the same club—and each occupied the same position but in different F.A. Cup finals for that club. Can you name the brothers?

NOT QUITE TWINS!

THEY could be twins... but Soccer is the real link between the two players pictured above. Both of them have played in the First and Second Divisions... and, more significantly, both of them played on the same winning side in an F.A. Cup final during the 1970's, though more recently their paths have been separated. Who are they?—If you haven't identified them, the answer is given in the panel below.

QUIZ ANSWERS

1. Frank Swift was named captain of England.
2. The player was Alex Dawson, who hit a hat-trick for Manchester United in the 1958 F.A. Cup semi-final replay against Fulham.
3. West Brom were the club, and the year was 1892.
4. The goalkeeper was Arthur Wilkie (Reading), who scored twice against Halifax in 1962.
5. Old Carthusians.
6. In season 1951-52.
7. Liverpool did the trick in season 1893-94, when they were in the Second Division.
8. Everton drew 0-0 against West Brom on January 27, 1974.
9. The men

PICTURE PUZZLE

were George Kay, Don Welsh and Phil Taylor.
10. Ralph Banks played for Bolton at left-back in the 1953 final, brother Tommy occupied the same position for Bolton in the 1958 final.

PICTURE PUZZLE solution: Top left, it's Bobby Kerr, and alongside him is Billy Hughes. And that information should recall the fact that they played in Sunderland's F.A. Cup-winning side against Leeds United in 1973.

TOMMY SMITH BOWS OUT . . . 'WE'RE SAD TO SEE HIM GO'

THE LINK between Liverpool and Tommy Smith has finally been broken, with Tommy's decision to concentrate on his outside business interests. So, after his return to Anfield for a brief spell on the backroom staff, Tommy is looking towards a future outside football.

Manager Bob Paisley says: "I've got to admit that I'm sorry Tommy has gone out of football, after all the years he has given to the game. He went through the mill as a player here, captained the team and collected medals, and he did a good job for us on his return from Swansea to take a job as youth-team coach.

"I felt that he had a great deal to offer football, with all the experience he had gained, and it's a great pity that he couldn't have continued in his new job with us.

"But I agree with Tommy that a decision had to be made as to which course he should pursue, and from a financial aspect, his business commitments took priority.

"We were sad to see him go, because he's been part of the Anfield scene for so long, and we wish him well".

IF TONIGHT'S TIE GOES TO A REPLAY

NEITHER Liverpool nor their supporters are looking for anything but a win tonight, but there are no clear-cut certainties in football—and we never take anything for granted!

So—just in case there is a stalemate at the end of 90 minutes (there will be no extra time)—we're giving you a route to Swindon, where a replay would take place on Tuesday, October 7.

The R.A.C. route is mostly by motorway, and it starts on the A5047 (Edge Lane) or Queen's Drive and leads to the M62, junction at Broad Green (where mileages commence).

Take the M62 to Croft, junction M6 (15 miles), and the M6 south then the M5, following "South-West" signs, to intersection 11, junction with the A40 near Cheltenham (147 miles).

Take the A40/A46 to the junction with the A417 at Brockworth (157 miles), and the A417/A419 via Cirencester to Swindon (total distance 185 miles).

FROM WIRRAL, the route is as follows: the M53/M531/A5117 to Hapsford, junction with the M56 (mileages begin at Hapsford), then the M56 to High Legh, junction with the M6 (15 miles), and the M6 south. Then follow the route as given above, but deduct six miles from the mileages.

LIVERPOOL BOYS IN CUP ACTION

LEAGUE CUP tonight, European Cup next week . . . and there's more Cup action coming your way at Anfield, for on Monday, October 13, Liverpool Boys will take on Leeds Boys, and once again the occasion will be the Leeds United F.C. Supporters' Club Cup final. The kick-off time is 7.30 p.m.

Supporters of schoolboy football on Merseyside will need no urging to come along to Anfield to support their own city team. The Liverpool Schools' F.A.

have produced many famous players and, as a voluntary organisation providing weekly football for more than 180 schools in the city, they deserve your support. In addition, here is your chance to see schoolboy football at its best.

The main stand only will be open (price 60p). Special concessionary rates are available for tickets sold in schools. So make sure you give your support to Liverpool Boys!

F.A. Today

Summer 1980

OUR thanks are due to the Football Association for permission to reproduce extracts from the article in the summer issue of F.A. Today, which is now on sale (price £1).

"IF YOU look at Liverpool's match-day programme, the Anfield Review, one fact stands out as you examine the club's roll-call of honours. While many a club would have no hesitation in listing appearances in semi-finals and finals, Liverpool record only times they have WON.

"Even getting to Wembley ranks as nothing, if they walk off the field as losers."

Those words are taken from an article which appears in the summer issue of F.A. Today, an official Football Association publication which includes the F.A. coaching magazine, "Insight." The current issue of F.A. Today features reminiscences by Bobby Charlton, the European championships, and a profile on Liverpool.

The profile—naturally interesting to all Liverpool supporters—puts this club firmly under focus, not least in trying to answer the question people have asked for years. Which, of course, is: "What is Liverpool's secret?"

Denis Law who knew days of glory as a player with Scotland and Manchester United, said while watching our team in action: "Liverpool?—They never give up..."

Graeme Souness, who in little more than two years at Anfield has collected three medals, made the point that Liverpool "stick to the basics, keep things simple."

And the words of manager Bob Paisley were recalled: "You like to entertain, but you can't always do that... it's winning that's important."

PROFILE ON LIVERPOOL

Bob, says the article, "counted it as a fair start when Liverpool finished second at the end of his first season as manager. But his aim was to do better. And he did. Liverpool have never finished out of the top two under Paisley's guidance, and their record of winning trophies has been astonishing."

Bill Shankly, of course, also receives due tribute... he "inspired his players so that they went out feeling 10 feet tall, and once they started winning trophies they put the fear of death into opposing teams. It became a part of Liverpool folklore that visiting sides didn't win at Anfield."

The secret of Liverpool's success was summed up in this manner: "It's an amalgam of many things—refusal to quit until it's too late to do any more; a positive attitude in trying to win their games; a refusal to gild the lily while, at the same time, blending skill with simplicity."

Liverpool are described also as "a club with a heart", and it is pointed out that "the relationship with the supporters is carefully cultivated so that a two-way feeling of affection has blossomed."

"Liverpool take the time and the trouble to show their fans around Anfield—one

It became a part of Liverpool folklore that visiting sides didn't win at Anfield. Now and again, some team has been brash enough to defy that edict—Norwich and Middlesbrough, for instance—but often enough, in later encounters, Liverpool have exacted retribution. A few seasons after their shock success, Norwich were given a six-goal hiding . . . and last season Boro' finished on the wrong end of a 4-0 score-line.

It doesn't matter whether a player cost a small fortune or nothing at all—he's got to be prepared to work the Liverpool way.

Once you're in, you've got to play out of your skin to STAY in . . . because there is always someone breathing down your neck for the right to wear the famous red jersey.

member of a visiting party not long ago kept shaking his head and murmuring 'Wonderful, it's wonderful' as he was escorted around what, to so many supporters, has become the Anfield shrine."

Again, the article concludes that "Liverpool show foresight—because they know complacency is a sure pointer to a path which leads in a downward direction.

"Even as they were fighting it out with Arsenal in the Cup and Manchester United in the League last spring, they were adding to their already-awesome playing strength by signing Richard Money and young striker Ian Rush.

"On the day Liverpool clinched their 12th First Division title against Aston Villa at Anfield, these new recruits were helping the reserves draw at Old Trafford and ensure an 11th Central League title—10 of those successes in the past 11 years."

The article adds: "Liverpool intend to remain the best. They also want value for money. Yet they try to ensure that they give value for money, too. The club strives to earn the fans' support by giving them a team which commands their loyalty and which can win matches and trophies with some style . . . although, when the chips are down, Liverpool know how to settle for a vital point.

"The players swiftly learn what is expected of them, and—like their manager—they are not given to shouting the odds. Yet, even after so much success, they know they must remain hungry for more."

And finally: "At the end of the day, there is only one thing which matters: that Liverpool should be recognised as the TEAM of the year . . . and this means there's got to be at least one trophy on the sideboard. The near-misses simply don't count."

TONIGHT'S REFEREE

TONIGHT'S referee is Mr. George Courtney, from Spennymoor, Co. Durham, and he is one of the game's most experienced officials, having refereed last season's F.A. Cup final, the 1977 F.A. Trophy final, and international matches between the Republic of Ireland and Argentina and the Republic and West Germany. He has also spent four months as man in the middle on the North American Soccer League circuit, and he has been refereeing since 1962.

*Dolby is a registered trade name of Dolby Laboratories Inc.

Dolby* noise reduction is so good you won't find a serious Hi Fi set without it. Unfortunately, you can't carry a Hi Fi set around with you. So Hitachi built a superb portable set with Dolby NR.

The amazing TRK 8190 E. Amazing, because it sounds and works more like plug-in high fidelity than anything else you can lift unaided.

There are four speakers, four radio wavebands, two built-in microphones and separate bass and treble controls.

Other features include air-damped eject, a chrome tape setting, 16 light emitting diodes.

And DRPS. That's the clever device that searches along the tape, stops and plays the track you want to hear automatically.

Ask your Hitachi dealer if he carries a Dolby portable unit. (He'll say: "Certainly, with one hand.")

Or write for details to Hitachi Sales, Dept. C, P.O. Box 4SY, London W1A 4SY.

Hear the hiss-free brilliance of Dolby noise reduction in a portable.

You'll get carried away.

JIM KENNEFICK'S VIEWPOINT

Finnish fans snap up Liverpool souvenirs

THE ONLY disappointing feature of our European Cup first-round draw was that the distance between Liverpool and Oulu, in Finland, made the cost of travel for our supporters (especially by air) prohibitive, and it proved impossible to organise anything on a group-travel basis.

Some of our fans were not deterred, however, and they chose to travel to the game by rail (TransContinental), although again, the cost was high and the journey long and tiresome.

No doubt about one thing—our host club, Oulu Palloseura, were obviously delighted to have been paired with Liverpool in this, their first experience of European Cup competition, and they ordered a large quantity of souvenirs to sell to their own supporters during our visit.

The order included hundreds of T-Shirts, scarves, key rings, wrist bands and so on, and it amounted in value to more than £2,000. So, as a club, we are making a contribution to the export drive.

THE FIRST draw in our Prize Annual competition will take place on Monday, October 13, and the winning number will be published in the Anfield Review which appears on October 25 (when we play Arsenal). The deadline for claiming this prize is November 5.

The prize will be a V.I.P. day out for two at Anfield for our game against Nottingham Forest on Saturday, November 8, and the winner and his (or her) companion will have lunch prior to the match and have the opportunity of meeting some of the players.

So make sure your name goes into the draw by getting your Annual before Monday, October 13!

The second prize draw will take place in January, and the lucky winner will receive an invitation for two to attend an away fixture in Europe, with all expenses paid. More about that later . . . although I can say that if Liverpool don't manage to make progress through the second round of the European Cup, the prize will be an expenses-paid trip for two to the final of the European Cup which, I gather, is likely to be staged in Paris.

By the way, from October 14 those who wish to know the winning number in our first draw can phone 051-260 9999.
